

Quality Policy

As a long-established, worldwide producer of BOPP films, Treofan aims to become the world's leading manufacturer of innovative and high-quality BOPP films. The goal of our commercial activities is to create added value for all of our stakeholders, especially for our customers, our employees and our owners.

Customer focus

Satisfied customers are the basis of our sustained success. We want to meet our customers' expectations by offering high-quality products, together with our capacity for innovation and tailor-made services. It is of central importance to us to establish trust and mutual respect in our work and when working with our customers. This is reflected in our efforts to supply added value to our customers.

Employees

Our employees take a committed and skilful approach to their work. To this end, we actively engage our employees in all processes within the company and train them thoroughly as required. Compliance with all relevant legal and internal regulations is a matter of course for all of our employees.

Lean management

Our goal is to constantly improve our processes and procedures through the use of Continuous Improvement, Lean Management, Six Sigma as well as other tools. As well as conserving the value of our existing facilities and building up advanced technologies to secure the future, our "Lean House" has the following modules which contribute to improving efficiency and quality:

- 5S: Assurance of order and cleanliness and the attainment of a culture of improvement through standardization.
- 7M: Avoidance of any type of waste in all of our business processes.
- TPM: Improvement in plant availability through an integrated preventative approach.
- Empowerment: Building the required organization and competences in our employees in order to sustainably improve quality and efficiency.

Management systems

Our commitment to implement and continuously develop our quality policy is demonstrated by the implementation of a quality system which complies with ISO 9001. Over and above that, we acknowledge our responsibility to the environment with an energy management system which complies with ISO 50001 (Treofan Germany GmbH & Co. KG).
